We developed an Early Algebra Learning Progression [EALP] to create a context in which to measure the impact of an early algebra intervention on Grades 3-5 students’ algebra learning. In this poster, we describe our EALP’s components before sharing levels of sophistication observed around students’ generalizing and representing functional relationships.